this collection advances the study of context dependent characteristics of argumentative discourse by examining a variety of media genres in which text and image and other semiotic modes combine to create meaning the chapters have been written by an international group of senior and junior scholars researching multimodal argumentation in the last two decades in each chapter a specific approach to argumentation and rhetoric is combined with insights from visual studies metaphor theory scientific visualization cognitive science semiotics conversation analysis or documentary film theory in order to explain how multimodal genres function argumentatively and rhetorically together the chapters present a state of the art in the analysis of multimodal argumentation in such diverse genres as print advertisements news photographs scientific illustrations political cartoons documentaries film trailers political tv advertisements public debates and political speeches the volume will be of interest to advanced students and scholars in argumentation studies rhetoric and multimodal communication this volume presents a selection of papers reflecting key theoretical issues in argumentation theory its six sections are devoted to specific themes including the analysis and evaluation of argumentation argument schemes and the contextual embedding of argumentation the section on general perspectives on argumentation discusses the trends of empiricalization contextualization and formalization offers descriptions of the analytical and evaluative tools of informal logic and highlights selected principles that argumentation theorists do and do not agree upon in turn the section on linguistic approaches to argumentation focuses on the problem of distinguishing between explanation and argument while also elaborating on the role of verbal indicators of argument schemes all essays included in this volume point out notable recent developments in the study of argumentation this volume comprises a selection of contributions to the theorizing about argumentation that have been presented at the 9th conference of the international society for the study of argumentation issa held in amsterdam in july 2018 the chapters included provide a general theoretical perspective on central topics in argumentation theory such as argument schemes and the fallacies some contributions concentrate on the treatment of the concept of conductive argument other contributions are dedicated to specific issues such as the justification of questions the occurrence of mining relations the role of exclamatives argumentative abduction eudaimonistic argumentation and a typology of logical ways to counter an argument in a number of cases the theoretical problems addressed are related to a specific type of context such as the burden of proof in philosophical argumentation the charge of committing a genetic fallacy in strategic manoeuvring in philosophy the necessity of community argument and connection adequacy for arguments with institutional warrants the volume offers a great deal of diversity in its breadth of coverage of argumentation theory and wide geographic representation from north and south america to europe and china this innovative text reinvigorates argumentation studies by exploring the experience of argument across cultures introducing an anthropological perspective into the domains of rhetoric communication and philosophy the anthropology of argument fills an important gap in contemporary argumentation theory by shifting the focus away from the purely propositional element of arguments and onto how they emerge from the experiences of peoples with diverse backgrounds demonstrating how argumentation can be understood as a means of expression and a gathering place of ideas and styles confronting the limitations of the western tradition of logic and searching out the argumentative roles of place orality myth narrative and audience it examines the nature of multi modal argumentation tindale analyzes the impacts of colonialism on the field and addresses both optimistic and cynical assessments of contextual differences the results have implications for our understanding of contemporary argumentative discourse in areas marked by deep disagreement like politics law and social policy the book will interest scholars and upper level students in communication philosophy argumentation theory anthropology rhetoric linguistics and cultural studies
