essay from the year 2006 in the subject english language and literature studies linguistics grade 1 5 university of hildesheim englische sprache und didaktik language english abstract therefore intercultural communication competence has become a theme which concerns everybody and which will even become more and more important in our world of globalization in order to avoid misunderstandings or even hostile attitudes ending up in conflicts in order to live peacefully in the global village and be able to solve the growing number of global problems which do not stop at national borders the ability to understand people from different cultures and to communicate competently with them has taken on an extreme urgency however achieving this aim sounds easier than it is to communicate competently with people from other cultures it is not enough to speak the same language as they do even though two people speak the same language it is possible that they do not understand each other this thesis becomes obvious in the following critical incident a japanese negotiating with a german business partner says that the deal will be difficult when the german asks how his company can help to solve the problem the japanese is confused while the japanese meant that the deal is off the german thought there were only some obstacles which can be overcome this phenomenon can be explained due to the fact that both speakers know the linguistic rules of the language such as grammar and vocabulary but they are not aware of the cultural norms attitudes and behavior of their communication partner they have linguistic competence but no intercultural communication competence this lack of intercultural communication competence and the ignorance of cultural differences might cause many misunderstandings in order to understand the sources of misunderstandings and to be aware of intercultural communication problems it is necessary to know and to understand the concept of communication since it is not possible to transmit messages directly from one person's brain to that of another person we have to put our ideas into codes that can be transmitted consequently communication can be described as an exchange of messages between a sender and a receiver in this process the sender encodes the message which means that he produces a set of symbols and the receiver has to decode the message which means that he tries to understand the meaning of the symbols by interpreting or making sense of them this book examines the notions of ethics and equity in relation to language and communication in intercultural relations although these notions are often discussed they are not always addressed with regard to specific subjects much intercultural discourse and dialogue in recent times has been coloured by the clash of civilizations as described by samuel huntington terrorist attacks such as 9 11 and the indelible effects which these events have had on dealings between different peoples cultures and religions this book discusses ethics and equity with regard to marginalized and privileged minorities victims of abuse and of conflict researchers and practitioners and language learners and speaker users it opens up spaces for a critical discourse of ethics and equity in language and intercultural communication as new knowledge this book was originally published as a special issue of language and intercultural communication
